An Experimental Inquiry into the Physiological Effects of Oxygen and other Gases upon the Animal System. By S. D. Broughton, F.R.S., F.G.S., &c., &c. 1

Notice of a Submarine Forest in Largo Bay, in the Frith of Forth. By the Rev. Dr. Fleming 21

On the "Cystic Oxide" Calculus; and on the sensible, mechanical, and chemical Properties of the Urine in the Diathesis. By Robert Venables, M.B., St. Mary Hall, Oxford, &c. . 30

On the Coal-field of Sutherland. By J. Mac Culloch, M.D., F.R.S., &c., &c. 40

Observations on Opium and its Tests. By Andrew Ure, M.D., F.R.S., &c. 56

Memoir on the Geology of the Shore of the Severn, in the Parish of Awre, Gloucestershire. By the Rev. C. P. N. Wilton, M.A., &c. 64

On the Decay of Timber, especially of Oak; with an account of some rudimentary Experiments, projected as a Test, whereby to compute its probable Duration. By G. T. Burnett, Esq. . 73

Microscopic Illustrations of a few new, popular, and diverting Living Objects, &c., &c., (reviewed) 86

On Thorina. By Professor Berzelius 88

On the Astacillæ of Cordiner, a Series of Crustaceous Animals. By the Rev. John Fleming, D.D., F.R.S.E. . . 104

Fragments on Egyptian Literature 111

Effects of Animal Charcoal on Solutions. By Thomas Graham, A.M., F.R.S.E., &c. 120

Observations on the Mullets of the Coast of Guiana, and the Grey Mullet of the British Coast; with Incidental Remarks on the Air-bladder and Stomach in Fishes. By Dr. J. Hancock, Cor. Mem. of the Zool. Soc., &c., &c. 125

A Description of Commander Marshall's new mode of Mounting and Working Ships' Guns, (reviewed) 140

On Indigo. By Andrew Ure, M.D., F.R.S., &c. . . . 160

On the Velocity of Sound, and Variation of Temperature and Pressure in the Atmosphere. By John Herapath . . . 167

Proceedings of the Royal Institution 176

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

I. Mechanical Science.

	Page
1 Transparent Watch	191
2 On the Elastic Force of Vapour at high Temperatures	ib.
3 On the Motion of Currents in Liquids	194
4 On the Expansive Force of Freezing Water	ib.
5 New Hygroscope	195
6 Adhesion of Metals	196
7 Effect of Solar Light upon Magnets	ib.
8 Non-interference of different Electric Currents	197
9 Heated Air used in Iron Furnaces	198
10 Preservation of Corn in Siloes	199

II. Chemical Science.

	Page
1 Preparation of Bromine and its Hydrate.—Hydrate of Bromine	199
2 Detection of Iodine	200
3 Preparation of Hydriodic Ether	ib.
4 Chloride of Phosphorus and Sulphur	ib.
5 On the Effect of Ammonical Gas upon Heated Metals	ib.
6 Fluid in the Cavities of Rock Salt	202
7 On the Formation of Steel by means of Silica	203
8 Analyses of various Cast Irons and Steels	ib.
9 On Artificial Crystals of Oxide of Iron	204
10 M. Becquerel on Metallic Sulphurets, Iodites, and Bromides	205
11 Preparation of Pure Oxide of Cobalt	208
12 Properties of Cobalt	ib.
13 Preparation and Properties of the Bi-iodide of Mercury	ib.
14 On a new Compound of Mercury	209
15 Reduction of Nitrate of Silver.	210
16 On some Properties of Silver.	ib.
17 Purple Precipitate of Silver	211
18 On the Action of Alkalies on Organic Bodies	ib.
19 Preparation of Formic Acid.	ib.
20 Pelletier on a new Vegeto-alkali	ib.
21 Buccina: new principle in Box-wood	212
22 On certain Double Compounds of the Muriates of the Vegeto-alkalis	ib.

III. Natural History.

	Page
1 Method of obtaining the Skeletons of small Fishes	213
2 Physiological Phenomenon produced by Electricity	214
3 Ossified Brain	215
4 New Medicinal Substance	216
5 Population of Wales	ib.
6 Use of the Chlorides of Lime and Soda in cases of Plague.	ib.
7 Fecundity of the Viper	218
8 Use of Sulphate of Soda instead of Salt for Sheep and Cattle	ib.
9 Alimentary Tubercle of Van Diemen's Land	ib.
10 Effects of Light on Vegetation	ib.
11 Luminous Points in the Horizon	219

CONTENTS.

Page.

On some Points connected with the Analysis and Structure of the Greek Tongue. By William Sankey, A.M., of the University of Dublin, and Extraor. Mem. of the Roy. Med. Soc. of Edinb. 221

Some Remarks on the Reciprocal Action of Indigo and the Fixed Oils. By Charles H. Weston, Esq. . . . 243

Commentary on a Paper in the Philosophical Transactions of the Royal Society for 1829, p. 9, entitled "A Description of a Microscopic Doublet, by W. H. Wollaston, M.D., F.R.S., &c." By C. R. Goring, M.D., &c. 248

On Proper Names 270

Remarks on the Composition of the Fin Rays, and certain other Parts in the Anatomy of Fishes. By Dr. J. Hancock, Corr. Memb. of the Zool. Soc., &c. &c. 287

On the Systems of Numerical Signs used by different Nations, and on the Origin of the Expression of Value by Position in the Indian Numbers. By Alexander von Humboldt . 300

Remarks on Snake-Poisons and their Remedies, by Dr. J. Hancock, Corr. Memb. Zool. Soc., &c. &c. 330

Observations on the Relations which exist between the Force, Construction, and Sailing Qualities of Ships of the Line . 336

Fragments on Egyptian Literature 349

Illustrations of the Cetetheræ, including the Loripeda, Semipeda, and Pinnipeda, or Loripeds, Semipeds, and Pinnipeds: being the arrangement of the Seals, Dugongs, Whales, and their Allies, indicated in Outline, by Gilbert T. Burnett, Esq. . 355

Illustrations of the Herpornitheræ; or the Arrangement of the Ornithorhynchus and Echidna, indicated in Outline . 362

Letter on the Philosophy of System . . 368

Supplementary Observations on Opium and its Tests. By Andrew Ure, M.D., F.R.S., &c. 373

Proceedings at the Friday Evening Meetings of the Members of the Royal Institution 375

MISCELLANEOUS INTELLIGENCE.

I.—Mechanical Science.

	Page
1. Dr. Mitchell's Method of working Caoutchouc.....	407
2. Force of Draught of Carriages.....	ib.
3. Strength of Wine and other Bottles	408
4. On the Optical Influence of two coloured Objects on each other	409
5. Alloy for the Construction of Pumps and Cocks..	410

II.—Chemical Science.

	Page
1. New Method of preparing Iodic Acid.....	410
2. On Chloride of Iodine	411
3. On fuming Nitric Acid—Hyponitrous Acid, &c.....	412
4. Decomposition of Water by Heat and Metals	ib.
5. On Mellitic Acid—Carbon, and Oxygen	413
6. Decomposition of Carbonic Acid by Metals..	414
7. Decrepitating Common Salt —Condensation of Gas in it	ib.
8. Iodates of Potassa. Chloriodate of Potassa, &c. Biniodate of Potassa	415
Tri-iodate of Potassa	ib.
Chloriodate of Potassa	416
Iodate of Soda	ib.
9. Detection of Baryta or Strontia when present with Lime.....	ib.
10. Magnesium. Metal of Magnesia	417
11. New Metal Thorium, and new Earth Thorina	ib.
12. Sulphuret of Zinc	419
13. Pure Oxide of Cobalt.....	ib.
14. Preparation of pure Oxide of Nickel	420
15. Preparation of Sugar from Starch	421
16. Estimation of the Vegeto-Alkali in Peruvian Bark..	ib.
17. Taste of Sulphate of Quinia	422
18. Phosphate of Quinia.....	ib.
19. Sertuerner's supposed new Alkali, Chinioïdia.....	ib.

Page

20. Mutual action of Iodic Acid and Morphia..... ib.
21. On crystallized Acetic Acid 423
22. Pollen of Cedar..... ib.
23. Production of Formic Acid 424
24. On a new Acid contained in the Urine of Herbivorous Animals ..... ib.
25. On the Decomposition of Urea and Uric Acid, at high Temperatures..... 426
26. Bromide of Carbon 429
27. Anhydrous Subcarbonate of Ammonia 430
28. Manufacture of Bicarbonate of Soda ..... ib.
29. Separation of Strontia from Baryta..... 431
30. Sulphate of Potash and Copper..... ib.
31. Preparation of Cinnabar in the humid way ..... ib.
32. Action of Platina on Silver. 432

III.—Natural History.

Page

1. Proportion between the Nervous System and other parts 432
2. Sense of Touch ..... ib.
3. Paralysis of one half the Body without loss of Motion ib.
4. Spontaneous Combustion of both Hands..... 433
5. Use of Belladona in cases of Frontal Neuralgia 434
6. Communication of Hydrophobia 435
7. On the Developement and Growth of Cantharides.... 436
8. Effect of Light on Plants .. 437
9. On the size of the Pear and other Fruits..... ib.
10. On the Structure of the Cellular Tissue of the Pith and Bark of the Cereus Peruvianus, and the Existence therein of Prismatic Crystals of Oxalate of Lime 438
11. Russian Diamond Mines... 439
12. On the Nature of Earths which, without cultivation or manure, are more or less favourable to the Nourishment and Growth of Plants 440

TO OUR READERS AND CORRESPONDENTS.

THE Managers of the Royal Institution having determined to publish a QUARTERLY SCIENTIFIC JOURNAL, more immediately under their own direction and superintendence, the labours and responsibility of the Editor of the present Journal cease and conclude with this Number.

We are sorry we cannot make the arrangement in regard to incomplete Papers, which a Correspondent suggests.

Just published, in 2 thick Vols. 8vo., price 30*s*.

A MANUAL of CHEMISTRY, Practical and Theoretical, containing an account of all Recent Investigations and Discoveries. By W. T. BRANDE, F.R.S. Professor of Chemistry at the Royal Institution, &c. &c. New Edition, considerably enlarged and improved, with numerous Plates, Wood-Cuts, Diagrams, &c.
